Chinese Miners to Succumb American
cans in Northern Illinois.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Times-Herald says:
"Chinese coal miners are to take the place of Americans in the Northern Illinois district. An attempt will be made to break the strike that exists, and 600 skilled Celestials have been picked for the work. They will all bear arms, have inside a Gatling-gun-equipped stockade, and be bodyguarded by 100
former Chicago policemen.
"An agent of the Chinese Six Companies was in Chicago last week, and made a contract with the Wilmington Coal Company to deliver the 800 Chinese at the mines at the Wilmington Braidwood district. The first consignment of 200 will arrive next Tuesday,
and the others will be on hand as soon
as provisions can be made to take care of the work. Arrangements for an additional 1000 Chinese miners have been made, conditional on the success of Finding of the Idaho's

Two Survivors.

When Almost Frozen.

Nineteen of Their Mates Are Dead in Lake Erie.

Story of Capt. Root of the Rescued
Steamer Mariposa—Lost Craft
Had Served as a Naval Veterans' Flagship.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUFFALO, Nov. 7.—The following are the names of sixteen of the nineteen men who lost their lives on the steamer Idaho, which sank during the gale Saturday morning above Long Point, on Lake Erie:

ALEXANDER GILLES, captain,
Buffalo.
GEORGE GIBSON, first mate, Buffalo.

WILLIAM GLANCY, chief engineer,
Buffalo.
JOHN D. TAYLOR, steward, Buffalo.

NELSON SKINNER, first assistant engineer.
LOUIS GILMORE, watchman.

RICHARD M'LEANS, wheelman.
ROBERT WILLIAMS, wheelman.
A. J. RICHARD, lookout.

HENRY THOMPSON, lookout.
CONRAD B. LANKER, fireman.
WILLIAM GREGORY, fireman.

JOHN HOLLY, assistant steward.
FREDERICK MIFFORT, oiler.
EDWARD SMITH, deck hand, Rochester.

M. BELL, deck hand.
The names of the three men drowned are not known. One was a fireman, another a deck hand and a third a porter. The names of the two men saved are:

LOUIS LAFORCE, junior second mate.
WILLIAM GILL, deck hand, living
at No. 127 Kent street, Rochester.

It is not known at the office of the Western Transit Company where the greater portion of the dead men hailed from.

The Idaho went out of commission
three or four years ago, but this summer she was thoroughly overhauled.
After her overhauling she was placed at the disposal of the Naval Veterans' Association, and by that organization
used as a flagship during the G.A.R.
encampment at Augusta. At the close of the encampment she was put into commission again as a freighter.

The captain of the steamer, Alexander Gilles, was one of the most widely-known of lake seamen. He was 41 years of age, and knew the lake waters like a book. His brother, Donald Gilles, is captain of the steamer Mariposa.

When the steamer Mariposa arrived in port, about midnight last night, with the news of the disaster to the Idaho,
and having on board the two surviving members of the crew, Capt. Root had this to say regarding the storm on the lake, and the rescue of the two men:

"It was one of the worst gales I ever experienced in all my years on the lake. We started from Chicago with a load of oats. All the way down the lakes we had a fight with the storm.
I don't think I could have lasted 15 years
putting in somewhere until it blew over.
I am glad I did not, for I fear if I had these two men who came down with me would have joined their mates by this time.

"It was about 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon when I first learned of the wreck of the Idaho. I was on deck when my first mate, Myron Chamberlain, came to me and told me that he had sighted a spar off to the north,
and that he thought there were a couple of men clinging to it. He pointed it out to me, and when I got the glasses
on it I could distinguish the men plainly. We were running under a good head of steam at the time, and I put on more and headed for the spar.

"When nearing it I was puzzled how to help the men off, for I could not lower a boat without a storm. Finally I circled about the spar, until I ran alongside and my men picked the poor fellows off. They had to drag them away from the spar by force, for the men had been there so long that their arms had become numb and were frozen about the mast and almost frozen fast to it.

"When we got the men on board we put them in bunks and gave them some warm food and soup, and had them feeling pretty good physically when we reached harbor.

"When the Mariposa, the rescued deck
hand, a swarthy, well-built man, 23 years of age, has sailed the lakes since he was a youth. He is more intelligent than the average seafaring man, and his story of the disaster, as told early this morning, is a thrilling one.

"We left for the night bound for Chicago with a cargo of general merchandise," said he. "Everything seemed all right until we got outside the breakwater, and then we were struck by the worst storm I ever saw. When the first big breaker struck us, we were tossed up in the air like a top, and a second later a big roller came over the port bow and rolled down amidships. The wind howled, but we did not pay much attention to the storm. We had felt wind before. The captain consulted with the mate, and decided to go could weather it, and he kept on his course.

"As we headed up the lake dead against the gale, it appeared to be getting worse every minute. The waves were running high, and the wind threw the tops from the breakers like dust. We moved slowly against the heavy wind and sea, and when we were well up the lake we found that the boat was making water. It kept coming faster and faster, and the big

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A murder as shocking in the fiendish details of its
execution as ever took place within the
confines of a great city was presumably
committed Friday, June 25, in a lonely
cottage at Woodside, L. I. William
Guldensuppe, a Turkish bath attendant,
was the victim, and Martin Thorn, a
porter, and Augusta Nack, a midwife,
stand accused of being his murderers.

Today their trial will begin in Long Island City before Judge Maddox. The
story of the crime bristles with details
of the degeneracy of human beings.

No murder was ever more carefully planned, nor did murderers ever take more pains to cover up their tracks by effectually disposing of the remains of their victim. Yet within twenty-four hours it was known to the world that a murder had been committed, and the pursuits of the butchers had begun.

Two of those youths of the lower east side of New York who spend their summer days in the East River or on the string pieces of the piers, were the accidental discoverers of the horrible crime. The boys were John McGuire and James McKenna. They were preparing for their afternoon "dip," June 25th, at the foot of East Eleventh street,
when the sight of a rather strange-
looking bundle floating with the tide hastened their movements. In a moment they were in the water and towing the bundle ashore.

Once back on the dock the boys lost
no time in cutting the stout cord which was wound around their prize and undoing the roll of old cloth which formed the outer covering. But they had not yet reached the contents of the bundle. There were still over-covers of heavy brown paper and cheese cloth. When those had been removed there was a yell of terror. There on the pier lay the mutilated trunk of a man, with the arms folded across the breast. It was the upper portion of the body, from the hips to the throat.
The arms had been allowed to remain.
From the breast a slice of skin had been removed, and over the spot the unfortunate man's arms had been placed, as if to conceal it.

Another discovery was made Sunday morning, June 27. A man and two boys, while picking berries in Ogden
woods, in the northern part of the city, found a bundle which was similar to that picked up the day before in East River. In oil cloth, brown paper and cheese cloth was wrapped the lower half of a man's trunk. It was the missing half from the East River find.
The heads and legs were still missing,
thus seemingly rendering it impossible
to establish the dead man's identity.

The head is still missing, but the body has been identified and the mystery unraveled, thanks to the keen and smart work of New York newspaper reporters. It was learned at the Murray Hill Turkish bath-house that one of the attendants, William Guldensuppe, had not been seen for a couple of days. It was also discovered that a woman named Mrs. Augusta Nack had abandoned her husband for Guldensuppe.

Could not Keep His Secret—How
It Came to Light.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A murder as
shocking in the fiendish details of its
execution as ever took place within the
confines of a great city was presumably
committed Friday, June 25, in a lonely
cottage at Woodside, L. I. William
Guldensuppe, a Turkish bath attendant,
was the victim, and Martin Thorn, a
porter, and Augusta Nack, a midwife,
stand accused of being his murderers.

Today their trial will begin in Long Island City before Judge Maddox. The
story of the crime bristles with details
of the degeneracy of human beings.

No murder was ever more carefully planned, nor

MEN HUNTING THE WRETCH.

BLOODHOUNDS PUT ON HIS TRACK
BY THE OFFICERS.One of the Most Dastardly Crimes
Ever Committed in Southern California—The Assassin Still at Large.

A hundred men armed with shotguns, revolvers, knives and weapons of all sorts, and a squad of deputy sheriffs, led by bloodhounds, hunted through the fields and woods of the Vernon district yesterday afternoon and last night trying to catch a negro who met Mrs. Belle Holly on the highway and after choking her nearly to death ravished her in the most brutal manner.

The man been caught last night the court yesterday have been bur- dened with his trial. The temper of the neighbors of Mrs. Holly told that with- out asking questions.

As it was the rape and escape cap- ture, but there is every reason to be- lieve he will be lodged in jail today. Mrs. Holly husband and for the first time heard of the Klondike gold dis- covers. The crew became greatly ex- cited, and three of the sailors, J. A. Krueger, O. W. Dugman and H. J. Jones, formed a plan to destroy the vessel and make their way to the Alaskan coast with a view of ul- timately reaching the gold fields. The men stole tar and turpentine from the ship's stores, and with other inflam- mable material started a fire in the forehold. Fortunately the flames were extinguished before much damage was done. The three conspirators were at once placed in irons.

Dugman made a written confession, stating that Krueger was the original- tor of the plan, and that he even de- sired to blow up the bark with powder taken from the whaling bombs. Dur- ing the rest of the voyage Krueger was kept in close confinement, but Dugman and Jones were allowed partial free- dom.

The Winthrop brought no news of the ice-berg which was being sought.

NEW YORK EXPEDITION.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The steamship City of Columbia, which will leave this city for the Klondike gold region, via Cape Horn, December 1, was visited today at noon by five thousand people, half of whom were women and chil- dren.

Nearly all of the 300 men and women already booked for the passage visited the steamer during the hours it was open for inspection, besides a large number of invited guests. Among the latter were H. A. Herbert, former Sec- retary of the Navy; Gen. H. V. Boynton, E. V. Canakoff of Philadelphia, the venerable ex-Secretary Nicholas Bid- die, C. P. Huntington and D. O. Mills and a delegation of seventy-five busi- ness men and bankers of Philadelphia.

The City of Columbia will be in charge of Capt. E. C. Baker. It will carry a large number of passengers, and the Horn will stop at several of the South American ports.

WIRES TO DAWSON.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Charles R. Hosmer of Montreal, Can., general manager of the Canadian Pacific Tele- graph Company; general manager of the Pacific Coast Postal Telegraph Company, and vice-president of the Commercial Cable Company, arrived here today, and is at the Hotel de la Paix.

He says that within the next year the Canadian government will undoubt- edly construct a complete telegraph line to Dawson City, and by the identical route originally surveyed thirty years ago by George Kennan, the Siberian traveler.

BUTTE PARTIES IN LUCK.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—A special to the Tribune from Butte, Mont., says that a great gold strike has been made on Upper Sage Creek. A ledge running for many miles, and has been discovered, and the people in that part of the State are wild with excitement.

Another report of the discovery of a rich place deposit was taken today from Elk City, Idaho, where Judge Lindsay and other Butte parties have been interested in mining. A 17-ounce bar of gold has been made, and the deposits are said to be richer than any- thing yet discovered in that State.

FLIGHT OF PIGEONS.

Tests of Speed from San Lucas to San Francisco.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The Cal- ifornia Homing Pigeon Society had its last scheduled race of the season today from San Lucas. The birds were tossed at exactly 9 o'clock by Charles L. Mc- Faul. The first, second and third prizes were won as follows:

John Filmer, San Francisco, arrived 12:57 o'clock; distance, 134 miles; 170 yards; average speed, 1002 1-9 yards a minute. E. G. Koehnig, San Francisco, arrived 1:04 o'clock, 138 miles, average speed 995 1-3 yards a minute. G. T. Central, San Francisco, arrived 1:17 o'clock, 133 miles, 850 yards; average speed 943 2-5 yards a minute.

Koehnig flew six birds from San Luis Obispo, about 100 miles, and arrived in line. They were liberated by George B. Staniford at 7 o'clock, and arrived at 1:39 o'clock, making an average of about 80 yards a minute.

Mrs. Tilton's Grave Rife.

MILLVILLE (N. J.), Nov. 7.—Visi- tors at Mt. Pleasant Cemetery today discovered that the grave of Mrs. Phoebe Tilton had been opened. In a nearby wood the corpse, cut open with an ax from breast to pelvis, and the heart missing, was found. There is no clew.

SUGAR AND WATER.

Steamship John McLeod Goes Down
Off Halifax Harbor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HALIFAX (N. S.), Nov. 7.—The steamship John McLeod, Capt. Stew- art, from Hilo via Delawares Break- water, with a cargo of sugar, bound to this port, struck on Black Rock, one of the sister shoals near Sambro, en- trance of this harbor, at 8 o'clock this morning, during a thick fog. The ves- sel commenced to take water fast, and the crew all took to the boats.

The ship sank soon after the crew left, going down in about thirty min- utes, and is a total loss. She was 1515 tons, and twelve years old, and was owned by Troop & Son of St. John's.

She was worth about $40,000, and her cargo was valued at about $100,000. It was for the Acadia Refinery, and is insured in New York. The captain and crew lost all their effects.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The whaling bark John H. Winthrop, Capt. Macomber, arrived today from Bering Sea. She reports a catch of seven whales, which yielded 10,300 pounds of bone and 900 barrels of oil.

Early in July the Winthrop spoke the whaler Gayhead, and for the first time heard of the Klondike gold dis- covers. The crew became greatly ex- cited, and three of the sailors, J. A. Krueger, O. W. Dugman and H. J. Jones, formed a plan to destroy the vessel and make their way to the Alaskan coast with a view of ul- timately reaching the gold fields. JOHN BULL ALARMED.

APPREHENSIONS OF TROUBLE WITH FRANCE OVER AFRICA.

Advance Upon Khartoum Stopped
and the Tunis Agreement Will be Observed in Order That no Hostilities May Emerge.

[BY THE TIMES SPECIAL WIRE.]

LONDON, Nov. 7.—[Special Dis- patch.] An exaggerated idea of the perilous nature of the situation be- tween Great Britain and France in reference to West Africa has suddenly seized the British press. As a matter of fact, the crisis was much more threatening several weeks ago, before the Tunis agreement was made, than today, and there is now little doubt that the differences will be amicably adjusted.

The reason that the situation has improved is the same as in all other diplomatic emergencies within the past two years. Lord Salisbury, under pressure, made substantial conces- sions. Those concessions were not what which made impossible the realiza- tion of Great Britain's pet ambition of an Africa all English from Cape Town to Cairo. This cry, when raised two years ago, incited France to pursue a counter aim, which may be de- scribed as "General de Gaulle's" plan, under the French flag. It was eighteen months ago that the French expedition began moving from west to east. Of course, the two paths of national ambition crossed, and now each side is seeking to confront the other with accomplished facts.

But whatever may happen in that region, there is no longer any desire on the part of either govern- ment to have a controversy thereon. Even a collision between the rival ex- peditions would not have a serious consequence, and the whole dispute is cer- tain to have an amicable adjustment between Paris and London. The terms of this adjustment have been made known, but it will prove that France is a substantial gainer. The virtual official admission that Great Britain has postponed her advance upon Khartoum, despite the fact that Gen. Kitchener's force could take it with- out difficulty before midwinter, if au- thorized to proceed, is regarded as a part of the understanding between Salis- bury and Hanotiau.

O'BRIEN GOT DRUNK.

CAPT. ROMNEY'S VENGEANCE IS APPARENTLY AT HAND.

The Latter Predicted That the Lieutenant Would Follow Him Out of the Regiment Within Six Months.

[BY THE TIMES SPECIAL WIRE.]

ATLANTA (Ga.), Nov. 7.—[Special Dispatch.] An extraordinary incident in the career of a lieutenant in the United States Fifth Infantry is quar- tered. When Capt. Henry Romney was tried by court-martial and found guilty of ungentlemanly conduct in speaking harshly of Lieut. O'Brien, his wife went for knocking O'Brien down on parade, he made the prediction that within six months the lieutenant would follow him out of the regiment.

President McKinley set aside the sentence imposed by the court, and since then Capt. Romney has been honorably discharged.

Lieut. O'Brien is under arrest to- night, charged with conduct unbecom- ing an officer during the recent march of the regiment from this city to Chat- tanooga and return. O'Brien was in charge of the Engineering Corps which mapped out a line of railroads, and the charges against him allege that while in Chattanooga he was drunk for sev- eral days and brought scandal on his regiment. When the regiment was ordered to proceed to Nashville, he could not be found.

MAJ. BEN BUTTERWORTH.

He Lies at the Point of Death at Cleveland.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CLEVELAND (O.), Nov. 7.—The physicians in attendance upon Ben- jamin Butterworth, who is ill with pneumonia at the Hollenden Hotel, give but little encouragement for his recov- ery.

It was stated at 10 o'clock this even- ing that he would not die during the night, but the physicians could not say whether he would get well. Maj. But- terworth's wife and daughter, who were summoned from Cincinnati, are at his bedside.

Will Organize the West.

DENVER (Colo.), Nov. 7.—Edward Boyce, president of the Federation of Miners, has gone to California, where he will spend the winter in organizing work. Boyce is opposed to the miners taking any part in the meeting of the American Federation of Labor at Nashville, and is opposed to anything with which Gompers is closely con- nected. He believes that the western labor organization should stand to- gether and stop sending money East for the support of organizations, which, he says, never lend a helping hand to the toilers of the West.

Prominent Pastor Dead.

ALBANY (N. Y.), Nov. 7.—Rev. A. J. Dubbs, D.D. (died today, aged 71 years), pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Albany, was a prominent minister of the Reformed Church in 1851, held charges in Albany, and was assistant to his father, Rev. J. S. Stubbs, in the church in which the Liberty Bell was hidden during the revolution. He held the Salisbury charge from 1857 to 1875, and from 1876 to 1892 was pastor of Salem Church in Albany, which he founded and built up into the largest congrega- tion in the Reformed Church, 1700 members.

Vienna Cafe Affray.

VIENNA, Nov. 7.—While a number of students and officers were lounging in a local coffee-house last night, a dispute arose which culminated in a se- rious affray. Three of the students, a waiter were badly wounded. The police have begun a thorough investi- gation into the cause of the difficulty.

Fell Down a Chute.

LEADVILLE (Colo.), Nov. 7.—Joseph Hatcher, recently arrived from Car- tersville, Mo., was fatally injured in the Church mine this morning. He is a partner in the lease, and was in an upraise when he made a misstep and fell down a chute a distance of fifty feet. He cannot live.

At New York Hotels.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—[Special Dis- patch.] R. S. McDougall is at the Neth- erland; C. S. Cornell at the Metropol- itan; M. C. Dunkin of Pasadena is at the Netherland; S. E. Adair of San Diego is at the Gerlach.

The town seems to be going toward football with a "rush," but the foot- ball eleven do not seem to appreciate the fact. The "Varsity" in the school, Military Academy, Occidental College, Y.M.C.A. and other eleven, instead of making their games and having a great audience to witness their play, scheduled their contests for the same afternoon in different parts of the city, with the result that only a corporal guard is present at any one of the games. The reason for non-attendance is obvious. With gridirons scattered from one end of Los Angeles to the other, the crowd is bound to be divided.

The Los Angeles team was never really in the game from the start. The Regiments took the lead in the first inning and held it throughout the game. The Los Angeles team made a grand rally in the sixth inning and scored four runs, all earned, by good clean hitting, but they were not equal to the emergency in the seventh, giving the Regiments their first victory in the tournament. The score was as follows:

The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Today the police are expected to begin the enforcement of the anti-littering ordinance. The probability is that many good citizens may forget it, and through force of habit their nags to telegraph poles along the streets as usual. Who will have the distinction of paying the first fine?

Santa Monica has concluded to fix up its neglected grave-yard and make it look less forlorn. The occupants will not sleep any sounder under green grass than under barren sand, but the place will be more attractive, and the last lingering objection that the Santa Monica has to dying will be removed.

Modern football is enough like rough and tumble fighting to satisfy the pugacity of any ordinary youngster, but it appears to be too tame for the energetic youth of Santa Barbara and Ventura, and therefore they supplement the game with fist-cuffs and a free fight. Four-ounce gloves and a sixteen-foot ring seem to be better than the pigskin and gridiron.

The political road agents who are lying in wait for the Police Commission, may find it no easy job to hold up the board. Commissioner Gibbon has been practicing with a new rapid-fire gun, and it is credibly reported that he can hit something with it. It was thought that the Mayor could hit a barn when he was inside with the door shut, but when he essayed the feat, he failed, his bullet going out through a knot-hole that he had neglected to plug. El Hutch, the bucking burro of the prairie, is said to advocate the use of dynamite in the hold-up, and has his pocket full of giant powder cartridges. As some of them are in his coat-tail pocket something may happen the next time he kicks. He is scheduled to kick today.

Society.

Mrs. George P. Rubsch entertained a number of little folks Saturday afternoon at her home on South Workman street, in honor of the seventh birthday of her little son George, and the tenth of her daughter Alice. The parlor was prettily decorated with white chrysanthemums and ivy, and the dining-room with yellow chrysanthemums and festoons of smilax. The place cards were decorated with brownies, and the table was pretty with two illuminated birthday cakes and other decorations. The little host and hostess received a number of pretty gifts from their little friends. Those present were: Ethel Valentine, Edith Hawks, Edna Duvall, Ruth Schofield, Katherine Potter, Leon Moore, Gertrude Robertson, Bessie Pope, Pearl Foyen, Ora Brown, Edna Maybelle and Hazel Barlow, Helen Moore, Joyce Gaters, Ethel Wickers, Mildred Warner, Willie Valentine, Charlie Baurum, Bright Damerell, Gerald Nimr, Avon Brown, Arthur Douglas, Guy Laverty, Miss Helen E. Hunt and Ada T. Hutchings. Mrs. Rubsch was pleasantly surprised in the evening by a number of friends.

NATIONAL LIFE CROOKED

COMMISSIONER BETTS STEPS IN TO MAKE IT STRAIGHT.

Resignations of President Fletcher, Director Wilbur and Secretary Braman Put a Better Aspect on the Insurance Company's Affairs—Points of Deception.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HARTFORD (Oct. 7.) Nov. 7.—Commissioner of Insurance Frederick A. Betts will make public tomorrow the report of his investigation on the National Life Association of this city, the outcome of which was the requested resignation of President Fletcher and Director Wilbur, the voluntary resignation of H. T. Braman, the secretary, and the reorganization of the company. According to the report of the commissioner it became apparent in the early stages of the investigation that the officers of the association attempted in many ways to mislead the insurance department, and the general public. The chief points of deception were: The suppression of death claims at the end of the year; reporting to the insurance departments amounts as payments to beneficiaries, when, in reality, these amounts included payments to other people retaining upon the books of the association several millions of insurance which the officers knew to have elapsed, or not been taken during the years 1895-96, inclusive; reporting that death claims had not been paid, when, in reality, they were not paid for some months afterward; in settling death claims, methods had been used to induce beneficiaries to accept less than the amounts due them. The report also gives a detailed statement from the books of the association, which showed the many discrepancies shown by the commissioner. Following the resignations of President Fletcher, Secretary Braman and Director Wilbur, the report says: "In accepting these resignations the association dispensed with the services of officers whose methods, if continued, would have brought ruin and disaster to the interests of the policyholders." Commissioner Betts, in concluding his report, says: "I have the utmost confidence in the men now in charge."

Stephen Ballou, who was elected president last Thursday, will assume the duties of the position tomorrow. Resignation of Occupants Burned. HALIFAX (N. S.) Nov. 7.—The residence of George Tullock, about three miles from Halifax, was burned to the ground last night. Miss Mary Walker, sister of Mrs. Tullock, and a four-year-old child of the Tullocks were burned to death.

CURRENCY REFORM.

MONETARY COMMISSION'S MARK HIT BY MR. BULLITT.

Scheme of Finance Which Exactly Meets the Views of Those Studying the Problem.

NATIONAL BOARD OF THREE.

ALL OUTSTANDING OBLIGATIONS TO BE CANCELLED.

Bonds in Existence and Banknotes Redeemable in Gold in Ordinary Transactions—Bank Tax—Silver Legal Tender.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The monetary commission is receiving, in answer to its invitation, many interesting propositions for reform of the banking and currency systems of the country, and among these is one from John C. Bullitt, which, coming highly indorsed as it does by financial authorities, has commanded great attention and study. Mr. Bullitt's plan touches every branch of the problem before the commission, and its provisions, in outline, are as follows:

That all of the outstanding currency obligations, amounting to about $800,000,000, shall be taken up and cancelled, replaced by a new currency, to be issued by a selected bank of reserve, and these notes are to be issued gradually to replace United States obligations as the latter are retired. These notes are to be secured by a deposit of 15 per cent. of gold in the treasury; by 15 per cent. of gold in the bank vaults, and by a first lien upon all of the bank's assets as well as by a special provision giving the government the right to assess all national banks when needed to make good notes of a defaulting bank, the notes of which would then be redeemed by the government.

A tax is to be laid upon the banks to cover the expenses of the currency board, and the balance held to secure redemption of notes in gold, if this exceeds $10,000,000, the surplus may be covered into the treasury to pay interest on United States bonds and for general purposes. This tax should be 1/2 of 1 per cent., or 1 per cent. per annum, as the common commission shall elect. Power should be given to banks, under permission from the currency board, to increase the note issue upon demand caused by unusual financial emergency, such increase to be subject to a tax determined from time to time by the currency board, upon the notes while in circulation; the tax upon the notes to be at a rate which would press upon the banks to take up the notes when the emergency has passed.

Silver and subsidiary coins should be redeemed in gold by the United States government on demand. These amount to about $100,000,000. No notes should be issued for less than $5. National banks should be constrained to exchange notes now out for new issue by surrendering notes as they receive them.

Customs duties and taxes of all kinds due to the government should be payable in bank notes. This is necessary to supply the government with the gold required by it to pay interest upon its bonds, redeem silver and for other purposes. The legal-tender quality of gold and silver should remain as now provided by law, and they should be the only legal-tender except to the extent of two-thirds of customs duties and taxes due the government, which should be payable in bank notes above stated.

The currency board should have power to regulate the issue of bank notes from time to time in lieu of the government currency retired, and to authorize new banks and branch banks to be established when and where and with such amounts of capital as the board may deem it proper and expedient, with power also to increase the amount of note issue by the banks required for the normal conditions of business as the country shall grow in population and in business expansion.

As banking capital may be increased by creation of new banks, the currency board should have power to adjust the note issue, whether normal or extraordinary, between the new and old banks, no distinction being drawn between them. The 15 per cent. gold upon the note issue deposited in the government treasury and the 15 per cent. kept in bank vaults should be counted as part of the 25 per cent. reserve on deposit in national banks.

The system of clearing-house certificates adopted by the banks in large cities in times of panics should be legalized. They have proved to be most salutary and there can be no better evidence of the needs of such a system than the fact that it has been established by voluntary consent in times of panic.

EFFICIENT MILITIA.

Capt. Paxton Reports on Operations During the Coal Strike.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) Nov. 7.—Capt. Alexis R. Paxton, Fifteenth Infantry, U.S.A., has forwarded to the Secretary of War a report of the operations of the Third Brigade and Philadelphia city troops in the Hazleton region, following the killing of the strikers at Lattimer by Sheriff Martin and his deputies.

The captain is attached to the headquarters of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, and spent three weeks at Hazleton with Gen. Gobin under the direction of Gov. Hastings. The report states that mobilization and concentration of the troops exceed in speed accuracy and completeness that of any other State in the Union. The camps of all the regular police, the accurate alignment of the tents and for compliance generally with the army regulations.

Capt. Paxton reports that the duty of the brigade during this service was performed in a strictly military manner in all respects. The conduct of the troops was excellent. The strikers soon realized that there was no personal animosity against them, and that the real purpose of their presence was simply to maintain law and order. Such troops, the captain says, they could not fail to respect.

The heavy loss of life and large list of seriously wounded at Lattimer, he adds, cannot fail to impress thoughtful citizens with the importance of providing some better methods of dealing with mobs.

MYSTERY OF THE MILL.

STRANGE SOUNDS THAT WERE HUSHED BY A WATER WHEEL.

West Ann Street Aroused by an Unseen Stranger's Cries—"Stop the Wheel!" Were the Last Words Heard—May Have Been a Suicide.

A mystery, which may be explained by the theory of a suicide, is troubling the minds of residents on West Ann street. The mystery consists of the unaccountable and abrupt cessation of exhortations and prayerful entreaties emanating from some unknown man who was concealed in the wheelhouse of the Los Angeles Ice Company.

About 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, Mrs. Margaret Harrigan, who lives at No. 218 West Ann street, the house adjoining the ice works, heard some one shouting in the wheelhouse of the mill, which abuts on Ann street. She started out to investigate. So did several other neighbors whom the strange sounds had attracted.

The wheelhouse is a wooden structure, annexed to the main building. It is a virtually a huge box-like covering for the twenty-foot water wheel. The wheel is eight feet wide and the building, constructed from rough, unpainted boards, is about fourteen feet wide. The men had just risen and cast strange shadows about the ordinary building, from which came the sound of falling water, the groaning of the slowly-revolving shafts, and the "shiv-shiv, shiv-shiv" of the blades as they struck the pool of water in the tank below. Above these sounds, which lent additional force to the chilling and terrifying about the loud wailing of a man calling upon the Saviour for assistance. Loud lamentations and heart-rending appeals rent the still night air. They were backed by the neighboring houses and stood in groups in the street. Men who were ordinarily considered brave spoke in whispers, as they listened to the prayers being offered up just inside the wall. A row of steps leads up the outside wall to the platform inside, about twelve feet from the ground. The door at the head of the steps was closed, and not one of the fifty or more people present had the courage to investigate, although the wailing seemed to come from the head of the steps.

Carl & Baker have abandoned their "wildcat" site west of Ramona avenue, and 400 feet north of College street. A heavy flow of water was reached at a depth of 850 feet, resulting in the suspension of further work in that locality. Mr. Carl claims to have uncovered several feet of oil sand, but says the heavy volume of water had expelled all oil from it. This firm is tearing down the old building and removing the materials and machinery to a site just east of the Parker, Frick & Manatt well on Ramona avenue, 200 feet north of Alameda street. They have secured several lots in this territory, and intend drilling a number of wells, provided, of course, that they are successful in uncovering profitable sand. Their site is more directly within the developed oil stratum than the Parker, Frick & Manatt well, which is a fair producer, hence their hopes for better success in this new development than in the abandoned territory, where they squandered $1200, besides several weeks of their own time.

A report is current in the field to the effect that the Guletau site has also been abandoned, and that the work of pulling the casing and removing the machinery will soon begin. This site is north of the Jewish cemetery.

The city water company now has two drilling rigs at work in its pumping-station grounds on North Pearl street.

Workers will reach the tubing stage in the Hill street well this week. This site is east of the north end of Pearl street.

Drilling operations are in progress at the brickyard on the corner of North near the apex of the hill south of the brick yard. This site is on the northern boundary of the oil strata, but is not believed to be a profitable one.

Brookings & Atkins and the Pasadena and Pacific Railway Company have begun work on the new well on Yale street. A depth of ninety feet of sand is claimed at the railway well.

The machinery is being put in at the site for the Capitol Oil Company's well No. 10. This is the third of the company's new wells, the tubing stage being nearly reached in two of them.

There promises to be considerable activity in drilling operations in the future. The northern section of the eastern extension. Preparations are being made to drill up to the line of the Catholic cemetery. Walter J. Young has secured five lots abutting on the cemetery grounds and is putting in drilling machinery. Development work will begin within the next ten days.

Whitaker has also purchased territory just east, and are making preparations for active work. They intend developing nine wells in this locality. The Milwaukee Oil Company (Parker & Thurston) have leases upon a number of lots just across the street, south, and will drill several wells in the territory.

The above work will cover about all the vacant lots in the Cottage Home tract, and will force explorers into the country in search of further extension, as the east end is nearing the end of drilling operations. Oil men express the opinion that there is a connection be-between the Los Angeles field and the Puente district, with occasional breaks, and considerable work is being done to uncover such trend of strata, but so far without success.

The Pasadena and Pacific Railway Company will begin work this week upon the development of well No. 5 of its east end properties.

Drilling machinery is being put back at the Van Fossen derrick, north of College and east of Pearl street. After a depth of 400 feet had been drilled a few weeks ago, some disagreement arose between the drillers and owner, and they hauled up their tools, unstrung the cables, loaded up the machinery and abandoned the site. Arrangements have now been made by which drilling will be prosecuted to the probable uncovering of oil.

THE LOCAL OIL FIELD.

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN EASTERN EXTENSION.

Oil Producers' Trustees Make More Storage Business Assured. Still a Few Recalcitrant Producers—Increase of Oil-burning Locomotives—Notes.

The secretary and manager of the Oil Producers' Trustees reports local oil matters greatly improved. The surplus has been reduced about fifty thousand barrels under the new regime, and confidence has been restored in the ranks of producers. Nearly all of the heavy operators have joined the compact, Bayer & Last being a notable exception. But little cutting of rates from the dollar point is charged, and erstwhile despondent producers are becoming hopeful. The producers of heavy oil outside of the combine still give a little trouble. Their heavy oil would be mixed with the lighter oil to the point of raising the gravity to 15 deg., with little expense, and at the $1 per barrel could be realized for the oil; and further benefit would result to all from removing an uncertain and dangerous element in maintaining stability of prices.

The present output of the field is estimated at 4000 barrels per day. The compact controls over 80 per cent. of this production. The Southern Pacific Railway Company is gradually changing its locomotives to oil burners. It has already changed eight engines, and is now consuming 300 barrels of oil per day.

Mr. Strasburg, secretary and general manager of the Oil Producers' Trustees, says a great many sales are being made by him. Many of these are small, but a sale of 2000 barrels was made at the $1 per barrel. The oil storage plant is an assured enterprise. Over $12,000 has been subscribed, and this amount was secured from compact members. The Standard Oil Company's tanks on Buena Vista street.

There is still a good market for oil in Northern and Southern California, and considerable quantities are being shipped into Arizona.
